KEY EDUCATIONAL INFORMATION

Leather is a product of nature, therefore it is susceptible to many different environmental occurrences. Roadwire's leather-trimmed interiors are not artificially cured, meaning the leather is not pre-shrunk with water or oven treatments. Leather, being a product of nature, shrinks. If a leather trimmed interior is pre-shrunk, to fit tight, it will continue to shrink, causing unnatural appearances and unnecessary premature aging. If you notice a slightly loose fit, it will cure with the natural elements of heat, man made heat, and time. Most OEM Interiors have sat on a car dealership lot, or have been in transit for weeks or months. The leather has cured and may even still appear wrinkled. Roadwire's leather trimmed interiors need time to cure for a perfect fit.
